The New York Times never rests on its reputation as the nation's premier newspaper and advertising medium. In 2014, we earned two Pulitzer Prizes, bringing our total to 114 Pulitzer Prizes and citations — far more than any other paper. We now offer integrated print and online advertising opportunities so that advertisers can multiply the power of their message across platforms.

The Times continues to be vital reading for influential Americans in every arena and for discerning consumers across the nation. We look forward to being a vital part of your advertising program in the year ahead.

Credit and Payment Terms

Advertisements must be paid for prior to publication deadline unless credit has been established by the advertiser and/or agency with The Times. However, certain advertising categories will require prepayment as specified in the rate cards. Acceptable forms of prepayment are bank wire transfer, credit card, or advertiser or agency guaranteed check.

Advertisers or agencies wishing to establish credit with The Times must request a credit application from The New York Times Credit Department. Application requests can be made by email (creditdepartment@nytimes.com) or online at nytmediakit.com. Completed applications should be returned to The Times Credit Department for evaluation of credit standing. If credit is granted, The Times will establish a credit limit and applicable payment terms. Advertisers and agencies granted credit will be billed weekly or monthly for published advertisements, as is determined by the category of advertising and established credit terms. Payment is due 15 days after the invoice date.

The advertiser and agency shall be jointly and severally liable to The Times for the payment. Cash discounts are not available. Insertion orders containing disclaimers will not be accepted by The Times.

Agency Recognition and Commission

Commission of 15% will be granted only to recognized advertising agencies, except where net rates are noted.

Application for agency recognition must be made with The New York Times. Applications are available upon request to The Times Credit Department by phone (212-556-8777), email (creditdepartment@nytimes.com) or online at nytmediakit.com.

General Policies and Rate Information

Advertising accepted by The New York Times is subject to all terms and conditions contained herein. Forwarding of an order by the advertiser constitutes acceptance by the advertiser of all rates and conditions that exist when the advertising is sold by The Times, and those of subsequent rate cards. Forwarding of an advertising order also indicates acceptance of the advertising acceptability policies of The New York Times. In the event of a conflict between the advertiser's order and the rate card, the rate card shall govern.

The terms and conditions of this rate card and all subsequent rate cards are incorporated into every advertising contract between The Times and the advertiser and/or agency. Submission of advertising subsequent to the receipt of such a contract constitutes acceptance of the terms and conditions of the contract.

The Times reserves the right to issue new rate cards and to revise its rates in writing, effective no less than five (5) days after distribution of the new rate card and/or of written notice of rate changes to the address of the advertisers or agency stated in a contract.

When The Times is requested to insert a box number in a full-run advertisement and forward the box number replies, the service charge is $275 for full-run and $100 for suburban zoned advertisements. Replies will be forwarded to the advertiser for a period of one month following the publication date of the ad. Charges for box numbers are not commissionable.

Contracts and Copy Regulations

The rate card level applicable to an advertiser is determined by the advertiser's projected volume during a 12-month contract period. Our COF Department will provide the advertiser or agency with a New York Times contract for signature.

Contract requests must specify a definite beginning date and are subject to a rate card effective when the contract begins and subsequent rate card increases and modifications. Volume and frequency contract discounts will be earned only on advertising inserted within a 12-month period. Additionally, a contract is applicable to ads placed within a single advertising category.

If the advertiser exceeds the initial estimated contract level and achieves the next level of the rate card, the advertiser will be entitled to a rebate based upon the retroactive application of the lower rate earned. The Times will credit the advertiser or agency account for the amount of the rebate earned.

If the contract level is not achieved, the advertiser will be assessed a shortage based upon the retroactive application of the higher rate earned. The Times will invoice the advertiser or agency for the shortage, and payment will be due to The Times in accordance with the previously established credit terms for the advertiser.

Advertising not paid for in compliance with credit policies will not be included when calculating the final earned rate and is not eligible for volume and frequency discounts.

Contracts can be voided at The Times's discretion unless space is used within 30 days from the effective date.

The volume discount levels for display advertising are based on 126 column inches per broadsheet page or 65 column inches per Book Review page. Volume discount levels for classified and display on classified advertising are based on number of lines or frequency of insertion, as noted in the rate card for the applicable category.

For frequency contracts, multiple insertions of the same ad on a single day count as one insertion for contract fulfillment, unless otherwise specified.

Magazine column inches will be credited toward fulfillment of contracts. See The New York Times Magazine rate card for details or contact your account manager.

Each advertising entity will establish a separate advertising contract with The Times. Corporate affiliates are not automatically entitled to the contract benefits of each other.

Copy Regulations

The advertiser and the advertising agency jointly grant to The Times the nonexclusive worldwide perpetual right and license to publish the advertisement in The Times, including in print and in any other format or media now known or later devised, whether or not such advertisement may be individually accessed, perceived or retrieved from such form or media. In addition, the advertiser and the advertising agency assume liability, jointly and severally, for all content (including text representations and illustrations) of advertisements printed and also assume responsibility for any claims arising therefrom made against The Times. Advertiser acknowledges that The New York Times owns a collective copyright in and to the selection, coordination and arrangement of the content of the newspaper, including any advertisements it publishes. Advertiser agrees that to the extent The New York Times deems it necessary, advertiser is obligated to cooperate and/or participate in any enforcement by The New York Times of The New York Times's copyrights. The New York Times shall carry the appropriate copyright notice in its name. The advertiser and the advertising agency agree, jointly and severally, to indemnify and hold The Times harmless from all costs, expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), liabilities and damages arising in any way from publication of any advertisement placed by the advertiser or the advertising agency.

The Times will not be bound by any special clauses relating to legal liability, circulation guarantees or any other condition in contracts or insertion orders that conflict with its policies, unless The Times has specifically agreed in writing.

The Times accepts no liability for its failure, for any cause, to insert an advertisement. The Times accepts no liability for reductions in distribution caused by acts of God, strikes, labor disputes, suspension of publication, failure of transportation or any other cause beyond its control. The Times accepts no liability for any error in advertisement caused by it, except for the cost of the space actually occupied by the error. In order to qualify for an allowance, claims for errors must be made to COF within thirty (30) days from the date of invoice. Credit for errors is allowed only for the first insertion. The New York Times will make the final determination on the amount, if any, of a credit allowance.

Two or more separate advertisements may not be submitted to fill a single standard unit space.

For split run advertising information, please contact your account manager.

Book Review copy should be prepared according to the schedule shown on the Books rate card.

Cancellation of orders over the telephone will be accepted subject to written confirmation by the advertiser the same day.

Advertising orders with or without reproduction material must be accompanied by identifying copy. Drawing, art and articles for reproduction are accepted at advertiser's risk and should contain an identifying mark to facilitate return. The Times shall not be responsible and does not assume any liability for damage or loss to original printing material supplied.

The Times reserves the right to revise or reject advertisements in accordance with standards of acceptability of The New York Times, to lighten or change type and borders, or to omit advertisements without notice. Placement of advertising is at The Times's discretion.

Advertising Acceptability Guidelines

The New York Times maintains an Advertising Acceptability Department whose function is to examine advertisements before publication to determine if they meet the standards of acceptability The Times has developed over the years.

The Times may decline to accept advertising that is misleading, inaccurate or fraudulent; that make unfair competitive claims; or that fail to comply with its standards of decency and dignity.

If an advertisement contains statements or illustrations that are not deemed acceptable, and that The Times thinks should be changed or eliminated, the advertiser will be notified. The Times will attempt to negotiate changes with the advertiser; however, if changes cannot be negotiated, the advertisement will be declined by The Times.

In addition, an advertisement must sometimes be amended because of the applicability of laws dealing with such matters as libel, copyright and trademark, the right to privacy, the sale of securities, the sale of real estate and political advertising.

The New York Times maintains clear separation between news and editorial matter and its advertisements. Accordingly, ads that include elements usually associated with The New York Times editorial matter will not be accepted (for example, but not limited to: Times-style headlines, bylines, news-style column arrangements or typography). Additionally, The Times reserves the right to label an advertisement with the word "advertisement" when, in its opinion, this is necessary to make clear the distinction between editorial material and advertising.

For complete Advertising Acceptability details, please download the Advertising Acceptability booklet from "ad specs" section under "newspaper" bar at nytmmediakit.com, or contact the Advertising Acceptability Department at (212) 556-7171.

See page 7 for the Multi-Advertiser Insert policy.

General Information

For questions or additional information regarding advertising in The New York Times, please visit our website at nytmmediakit.com, or call The New York Times Advertising Department (refer to the telephone numbers on page 2 of the rate card) or contact COF at (212) 556-7777 or 1-800-NYT-5515 outside the New York Metropolitan area. FSI information is only available at (212) 556-4299 or coffi@nytimes.com.

FSI Requirements

Copy

Copy must meet the guidelines in “Standards of Advertising Acceptability” and must be approved by The New York Times, Advertising Acceptability Dept., (212) 556-7171. A copy of the “Standards” is available from that department. Additional advertising guidelines apply to multi-advertiser and advertorial inserts.

See Advertorial and Multi-Advertiser Insert policy below.

Typography

Material that resembles news or editorial matter must be reviewed for approval prior to reservation. If accepted, the insert must be labeled “Advertisement” on the front cover. New York Times-style headlines, subheads, bylines, datelines, captions, bios, news layouts or typography may not be used.

The legend on an advertorial cover (e.g., “Advertising supplement to the New York Times”) must be all caps and no smaller than 8 pt. Helvetica or equivalent.

Each advertorial preprint must be preapproved and contain the legend “Advertising Supplement to The New York Times” or “Advertising Supplement.”

Ask your account manager for a complete guide to design, pack and ship preprinted inserts properly.

Paper

Minimum Size: 4" x 6". Folded pieces must have spine on 6" side. Maximum Size: 10.5" x 11.5" Spine or final fold must be no more than 10.5".

Minimum Thickness: .007

Maximum Thickness: Varies by dimensions

Single sheet inserts must be at least 70 lb. text, maximum 100 lb. text

Four-page newsprint sections must be quarter-folded.

Broadsheet pages count double for pricing, i.e., a four-page broadsheet is billed as an eight-page tabloid. Blow-ins, stitched in postcards, order forms and product samples are counted as pages.

Samples of Inserts

In order to maintain quality control, samples of inserts and special supplements must be tested by The New York Times prior to acceptance. Samples may be exact blanks or a very fair representation of the insert. Samples must arrive at least 10 days prior to insertion date, preferably prior to printing so adjustments can be made if necessary. We require submission of insert samples for approval prior to production of the insert.

Shortages & Overages

Distribution quantities are forecasted to the best of the Times’s ability. Please indicate on the insertion order which areas advertisers would like any extras to be distributed in, or if extras should be destroyed. Also indicate which areas advertisers would prefer to be shorted if there are not enough inserts to cover the desired area. If newsstand and subscriber copies are ordered, we will short the newsstand copies in favor of home delivery if no preference is indicated, wherever possible.

Acceptance and Confirmation of Orders

The Times will not be liable for printing or other preprint costs due to incomplete distribution.

Unless otherwise instructed, if the number of free-standing inserts received exceeds the distribution in the FSI zones selected by the advertiser, the excess FSIs will be distributed in adjacent FSI zones, zip codes or regions as available.

Each preprint or advertorial is subject to review prior to acceptance. Price quotations require written confirmation from The New York Times.

The New York Times reserves the right to reject advertisements in accordance with New York Times standards of acceptability.

New York metropolitan home delivery subscribers receive Sunday FSIs on Saturday, along with the advance sections including The New York Times Magazine, Arts and Leisure, Travel and Special Sections.

Advertorials and Multi-Advertiser Inserts

Multi-advertiser and advertorial inserts must be approved prior to acceptance. Acceptance should be established before planning or printing an insert. A multi-advertiser insert contains more than one advertiser with or without supporting stories or articles. An advertorial contains one or more advertisers with supporting stories or articles. Prior to planning your insert, contact your account manager for acceptance policy and pricing concerning multi-advertiser and advertorial inserts.

Shipping and Receiving

Machine-inserted FSIs must arrive ten days in advance. Request specific packing and shipping directions from your representative.

If printing, shipping specifications, and deadlines are not met, additional charges may be incurred by the advertiser.

Shipping address varies according to distribution ordered. Shipping address for all machine-inserted FSIs (New York distribution):

*Retail rates are net — no agency commission.

Home Delivery Onserts

For increased visibility, this premium service places your insert on top of home delivered newspapers before they are placed into the home delivery bags. This service provides high visibility for participating advertisers. Only one onsert will be accepted for each delivery area each day.

- In the New York Metropolitan area, order by zone or by zip code.
Not available in Manhattan.
- Outside of New York, order by major market.
- Onsert orders can be combined with standard insert orders to attain complete coverage.

Add $20 CPM to home delivery by zip code rates.

New York Times Magazine and T-Style Magazine Inserts

Luxury goods advertisers marketing high-end products to an upscale audience should consider placing their inserts in the New York Times Magazine and our monthly T-Style Magazines on Women's Fashion, Men's Fashion, Travel, Design and Holiday. Contact Karen Farina (212) 556-3890 or your account manager for details.

Printing and Targeted Marketing Products

The New York Times can provide targeted marketing solutions including custom printing, FSI wrappers, printed polybags, direct mail services and more. Contact Paul Ferrali at (212) 556-4213 or your account manager for information and pricing.

Onserts, Polybags, Carrier Inserts

These programs do not include 100% home delivery distribution, as some subscribers are serviced by independent or remote home delivery dealers that do not participate. As such, The Times will only request and/or print the amount we anticipate will be necessary to cover participating routes. Please indicate on the insertion order the preferences for handling shortages and overages.

NY Times cannot be responsible for building managers, superintendents or others that remove inserts from newspapers or newspapers from bags. Bags are normally supplied on pads of 100 bags. As a result, depots may be short or over.
